CAMERA CLUB of RICHMOND

October 2018

President's Corner

Fall is finally here, and your Camera Club of Richmond is starting the season with many fun activities! First, we will be having our annual picnic at Robious Landing Park in Chesterfield County, next to James River High School and the so-named river, on October 21st, starting at 3 p.m. Bring an item to grill and a side dish to share. The club will provide utensils, charcoal, and non-alcoholic beverages. We will have shelter #2, the one closest to the parking lot and restrooms and it is handicapped-accessible. Also, remember to bring your camera as the river is a great photo opportunity! Please email me at president@cameraclubofrichmond.com to let me know you are coming and how many guests so that we can have an accurate head count for supplies.

Second, you can see some great photography from some of our club members being displayed at Artworks in their Skylight gallery starting on September 28th, lasting for four weeks. Friday evening of the 28th is the grand reception starting at 6 p.m. and will feature most of the members who have work displayed present to discuss their pieces. Light refreshments will be served so come out to support your club!

The next BIG event will be our annual holiday celebration and awards banquet to be held on December 12th at the University of Richmond's JAC Robbins Pavilion starting at 6 p.m. Please bring a check to the next general meeting, October 10th, made out to Camera Club of Richmond to reserve your spots for this fantastic evening of socializing, gourmet food, drinks, and awards. Cost is $40 per person and guests are very welcome!

Oh, but you ask, "What are the awards for?" Those awards will be given in recognition for the winners of the annual end-of-year evaluation. Although I have told you that the board was re-vamping the categories for this year, it seems it was too much and too late to enact for the 2018 event. At our meeting last week, the board felt it would be better to give everyone more time to adjust to, and give input on, the changes. So, for 2018 the categories we used in the past will remain in place. Use the information on the website for submitting images. The board has put some guidelines in place that will give the number of awards for each category based upon the total number of submissions in that category. The deadline for submissions will be Saturday, October 20.

Finally, most of our hard-working, enthusiastic, and fun board members will be returning next year. We welcome John Roach who will start in January as our Education Director, replacing Karen Davis, who will have a secret mission next year. Unfortunately, Bruce Murff will be stepping down as Activities Director. If you would like to be part of this team and help us plan photoshoots and other events, please contact a board member.

End-of-Year Competition

In addition to the CCR website, information on the end-of-year competition is being emailed with this newsletter and will be available at the membership desk at our October meeting.

2018 End-of-Year Competition

Judging for this year's End-of-Year Competition will take place on November 11, 2018 with three top experts from Silver Spring, MD and Northern VA in a closed event.

Winners will be announced at the annual awards banquet to be held on Wednesday, December 12, 2018 and those images will be displayed on the CCR website in January 2019.

Plus questions and answers and much more!
